

H₂O Breakfast

Perspectives on Regional Stormwater Management

May 6, 2014 • 8:00 to 10:30 a.m.
The Lincoln Center • Spokane, WA

Learn more at www.spokaneriver.net/h2obreakfast

A networking and Q&A opportunity for opinion leaders, elected officials, stormwater managers, agencies, conservation groups, businesses, and others

Join us in welcoming the Mayor of Aurora, Illinois, Tom Weisner.

Aurora, like the Spokane-Coeur d'Alene corridor, has a river (the Fox) running through it. Similar in size to Spokane, Aurora has transformed itself from a "blue collar town" to a 21st century economy. Mayor Weisner will share his experiences:

- Cleaning up polluted riverfront areas and breathing new life into Aurora's downtown urban core, the most recent example of which is RiverEdge Park, a spectacular new music venue on the banks of the Fox River.
- Implementing Green Infrastructure to reduce stormwater runoff, sewer overflow events and nonpoint source pollution; improve best management practices; and educate residents.
- Adopting a Riverfront Vision to guide environmental stewardship and economic development.

Joining Mayor Weisner will be Spokane Mayor David Condon, who will showcase Spokane's Integrated Clean Water Plan, an effort to provide superior environmental results for the Spokane River at an affordable price. This plan was recently submitted to the Washington Department of Ecology.

Perspectives on addressing similar issues in northern Idaho and eastern Washington will also be shared.

Sponsors

Cost $15 per person. Register by April 29 at www.spokaneriver.net/h2obreakfast