

Kate Riley, Program Manager at Snohomish Conservation District

Kate holds an M.S. in Environmental Engineering and has worked internationally in low-impact development and community engagement. Kate facilitates partnerships with diverse stakeholders to work towards behavior change and the implementation of stormwater projects on-the-ground. She works with various cities, tribes, and planning bodies in her region, and serves as a stormwater coordinator for the Puget Sound Conservation District Caucus.

